

Qroo Paul's Spanish Master Course

Lesson 15 Summary

Skool.com/qroo

This lesson introduces direct object pronouns in Spanish and shows how to use them naturally in conversation. These pronouns replace nouns that directly receive the action of the verb and help make sentences shorter and more fluid.

Direct Object Pronouns

me – me

te – you (informal)

lo – him / it (masculine)

la – her / it (feminine)

nos – us

os – you all (informal – vosotros, used in Spain)

los – them (masculine or mixed group), or you all (formal – ustedes)

las – them (feminine), or you all (formal – ustedes, all women)

Example with a person (personal A required):

¿Conoces a Juan? – Do you know Juan?

No, no lo conozco. – No, I don't know him.

Example with a thing (no personal A):

¿Conoces la canción? – Do you know the song?

Sí, la conozco. – Yes, I know it.

Word Order with Direct Object Pronouns

If there is only a conjugated verb, the pronoun goes before the verb:

Lo veo. – I see him.

La conozco. – I know her.

If there is a conjugated verb + infinitive, the pronoun can go before the conjugated verb or attached to the infinitive:

¿Quieres verla? – Do you want to see it?

La quiero ver. – I want to see it.

Both are correct. Choose whichever sounds more natural to you.

More Practice Examples

¿Tienes las llaves? – Do you have the keys?

Sí, las tengo. – Yes, I have them.

¿Conoces a María? – Do you know María?

No, no la conozco. – No, I don't know her.

¿Quieres conocerla? – Do you want to meet her?

La quiero conocer. – I want to meet her.

¿Ves a los hombres? – Do you see the men?

Sí, los veo. – Yes, I see them.

¿Ves a las mujeres? – Do you see the women?

Sí, las veo. – Yes, I see them.

¿Nos ves? – Do you see us?

Sí, los veo. – Yes, I see you all.

(in Spain: ¿Os veo? – Do I see you all?

Sí, nos ves. – Yes, you see us.)

The Verb VER for Watching

Use ver (not mirar) when referring to watching TV or movies:

¿Quieres ver la película? – Do you want to watch the movie?

Sí, quiero verla. – Yes, I want to watch it.

Special Use of “Lo” as a Neuter Pronoun

Lo is also used to refer to ideas, facts, or general concepts—not people or objects:

No lo sé. – I don't know (it / that fact / that situation).

Lo único que quiero saber es cuándo comemos. – The only thing I want to know is when we eat.

Use lo when referring to something vague or previously mentioned, like:

¿Qué quieres hacer? – No lo sé. – I don't know (what I want to do).

¿Qué dijo ella? – No lo entendí. – I didn't understand it.
