Lesson 47 Summary

Skool.com/qroo

In this lesson, Paul teaches six of the most common verbs that trigger the subjunctive when followed by a different subject in the sentence. These are verbs of desire, influence, hope, command, or request.

Subjunctive Trigger Pattern:

When there's a subject change, you must use:

[Trigger verb in indicative] + que + [verb in the subjunctive]

Core Trigger Verbs:

1. querer que – to want that
2. esperar que – to hope that
3. desear que – to wish that
4. preferir que – to prefer that
5. recomendar que – to recommend that
6. insistir en que – to insist that (note: always appears with “en”)

 These are typically used in the first person: “quiero,” “espero,” etc.

Subject Change Required

Use subjunctive only when the subject of the second verb is different.

Examples:

- Quiero que estudies español.
(I want you to study Spanish — 2 subjects → use subjunctive.)
 - Quiero estudiar español.
(I want to study Spanish — 1 subject → use infinitive.)

Example Constructions:

Trigger Verb	English Translation	Subjunctive Use Example
Querer que	I want you to study.	Quiero que estudies.
Esperar que	I hope you get better soon.	Espero que te mejores pronto.
Desear que	I hope you have a good day.	Deseo que tengas un buen día.
Preferir que	I prefer that you stay home.	Prefiero que te quedes en casa.
Recomendar que	I recommend that you go to bed early.	Recomiendo que te acuestes temprano.
Insistir en que	I insist that you tell me the truth.	Insisto en que me digas la verdad.
